

Gerard J Rego

Gerard J Rego - Wharton Fellow 05, DV Fellow '06, Visiting Scholar (CSLI), Stanford University , Donor Member Society of Fellows, Aspen Institute

Profile:

Summary: Gerard is the VP & GM India Product Development MSC Software India, the global leader in Enterprise Simulation and CAE. Gerard is a senior enterprise executive and entrepreneur in the Indian ICT industry with over 16 years experience in creating, leading & managing innovation and services with domain and technology cross-functional teams for new product development/engineering/management. His industry exposure span Manufacturing, Aerospace & Defense, Automotive, ICT (Information Communications & Technology), Publishing CAD/CAM/CAE and Logistics. Over the years his domain lies in innovation, product engineering and management from a deep understanding of business and technology. Gerard was recently selected as a Reuters Digital Vision Fellow at Stanford University in '06 which attracts the technologists and social entrepreneurs across the world and also selected as a Wharton Fellow in '05 and is a Donor Member of the Society of Fellows at the Aspen Institute. Gerard has a Bachelor's in Math, a Masters in Sociology and is currently completing a research thesis in Innovation for an MPhil in Entrepreneurship. Featured among the top 20 bigwigs in India's silicon valley in 1998 by Express Computers Bangalore. Gerard was selected for the Pune 2006 Super Achievers Award given to outstanding business entrepreneurs and executives. Gerard serves on the Advisory Board of Knowledge@WhartonIndia. Passion for people, trekking and protecting the environment for the future. Focus on Education, BOP opportunities, The Next Billion, Social Entrepreneurship and emerging opportunities such as SME competitiveness, human capital development, business models for new industries, are areas that Gerard sees a great future for sustainable and scalable business models. Gerard is a Charter Member of TiE Pune Chapter.